President's Message

Dear HBA Ohana:

Mele Kalikimaka! Merry Christmas to you and your loved ones! A few weeks ago, our students in grades kindergarten through third grade hosted our bi-annual Christmas pageant. The event was well attended, as hundreds of friends and family members packed into the high school gymnasium. It was heart-warming to hear the voices of children, singing about the birth of Jesus and the hope that our Messiah brings to the world. It made me reflect upon the joy the shepherds experienced when they first heard about Jesus' birth from the angels. Finally, after thousands of years, God had kept his promise and would deliver his people. Yet many were disappointed when Jesus didn't overthrow the Roman government. Rather, he was nailed to a cross like a thief, and rose from the dead three days later and conquered death once and for all! I am humbled and awestruck when I think about God's amazing love for us, and I hope that we are all able to share that love this holiday season with our family, friends and our communities.

Already, we've concluded our fall semester for the 2015-16 school year. We started the year with an all-school picnic and chapel at the elementary school. Different grade levels were paired with one another to enjoy lunch, play games and worship together.

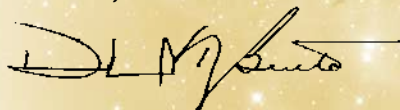

In October, our elementary school hosted their Christian Emphasis Week (CEW). This year's theme was "Upside Down," which challenged students to look at the world in a new perspective, and to do something they normally wouldn't do, such as giving snacks to a homeless person, or donating food to a food pantry. We are overjoyed and thankful to know that 43 students received Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior for the first time, and 124 recommitted their lives to Christ during this week.

Last month, our family came together to celebrate eight individuals who have made lasting contributions to God's work in Hawaii, particularly in the ministry of Hawaii Baptist Academy. Legacy Night was a wonderful event with special guests and superb food. The event was also used to raise funds for our financial aid programs.

We are now in the midst of our annual giving campaign to meet our primary need which is to pay off the new Arts and Science Building. We must raise the remaining balance of $2.5 million on the $17 million high school expansion capital campaign launched in 2012. Thank you for helping us to meet this challenge. For more information, please visit www.hba.net/giving.

Once again, we wish you a Merry Christmas! We pray for God's blessings upon you and your loved ones this holiday season and throughout the new year.

Sincerely,

Richard T. Bento
President

Legacy Awards

HAWAII BAPTIST ACADEMY honored eight outstanding individuals on November 6 at the school's second Legacy Awards. The awards program, which started in 2014, recognizes people who have made lasting contributions to God's work in Hawaii, particularly in the ministry of HBA. All proceeds from the event go directly to the Alumni Association Scholarship Endowment and financial aid for current students.

Receiving top honors this year were the late DR. DAN H. KONG and PATRICIA SIMMONS. Both received the Lifetime Legacy Award for their exemplary life service to God and to HBA.

Kong was the school's president, 1988–1993, and vice president of development, 1973–1983. He worked with Col. Stan Sagert in enlisting key mainland supporters to form the Mainland Advisory Council in 1977. Kong also served as executive director of the Hawaii Baptist Convention, 1983-1988. Danette Kong, Dan's daughter, received the award on behalf of her father, who passed away in 2005.

"Both of my parents loved HBA. That was so evident to all of our family. They invested a good portion of their lives in HBA because they believed in the school's mission, and they loved its community," said Danette. "My sisters and I are grateful that people acknowledge the legacy our father left. He connected people with HBA, he inspired them, and encouraged everyone to be the best they can be. In honoring him, this award honors God, who called and directed Dad to his life's work and ministry."

Simmons worked at HBA for 27 years and wore many hats during her career. She was hired as HBA's very first kindergarten teacher in 1963. She then taught second and third grades, and also served as interim elementary school principal. She worked as development director at HBA, 1992-1999. In her retirement in Mississippi, she has been a tutor for the Christian Women's Job Corps. She also returns to Hawaii every February for MAC Week to greet new and returning MAC members at the airport, and assists with the daily details involved in the meetings.

"I loved HBA, and I loved every year that I spent here. I think serving God is the most important thing we can do," said Simmons. "Teachers, spend time in prayer every day, and think of other people more than yourselves, particularly the students. Try to help somebody else along the road. The greatest thing we have is sharing how we love Jesus with the students, so they can go home and share it with their families."

ITSUKO "SUE" NISHIKAWA was recognized with the Distinguished Service to God Award for devoting her entire life to missions and ministries. The first local, female graduate of a Southern Baptist seminary, Sue began her service in Hawaii as educational director of Olivet Baptist Church. She helped organize the Woman's Missionary Union (WMU) in 1944 and served as the WMU director for the Hawaii Baptist Convention, 1954–1980. In 1981, the State Missions Offering was named in her honor for her tireless example of giving, praying and serving.

She died in 2004 at the age of 88. Part of her estate was used to create an endowment fund through the Hawaii Baptist Foundation to support the Sue Nishikawa Missions Offering, and also provide a scholarship each year to a graduating HBA senior girl who best exemplifies Nishikawa's heart for the Lord and missions. On behalf of Nishikawa, her niece, Faith McFatrige, accepted the award.

ANDY AND MARY ANN YOUNG

accepted the Distinguished Service to Community Award for more than 40 years of volunteer service to HBA and the community. The Youngs are charter members of The Aloha Council, a group of local supporters who believe and support the mission of HBA. They were also among the first MAC hosts when the MAC first began. Andy served as the PTF President for at least six years, where he started the school's band. He is also known for chairing the plant booth at the school's annual Fun Fair. He volunteered for the Athletic Booster Club, was a capital campaign team leader and coached the girl's junior varsity tennis team for eight years, winning six ILH division two championships. Mary Ann volunteered alongside of her husband, and worked as a substitute teacher at HBA.

TODD YOKOTAKE '84 received the Distinguished Service to HBA Award for his dedication as a teacher, and his music ministry, the Soldiers of Light. The choral group, which began in 1991 with only eight members, has become one of the most prominent groups to represent the school. In 1992, SOL became part of the school's curriculum. In 2003, they added a halau. Today, SOL performs at Southern Baptist churches on Oahu, the mainland and at public venues such as Ala Moana Center Stage.

DENNIS SASAKI '71 and SUSAN (MIYAMOTO) UTSUGI '82 were recognized as Distinguished Alumni. Sasaki is a senior staff scientist and associate director of the Flow Cytometry Core Laboratory at Becton-Dickson (BD) Biosciences in San Diego, California. One of his notable achievements was developing and implementing the first surrogate testing for HIV-AIDS using flow cytometry, a laser-based technology that rapidly analyzes physical chemical characteristics in blood, two years before an actual HIV test was developed and used. He also co-developed the world's first clinical high speed cell sorter, which is used to find and isolate stem cells. He has authored, co-authored or contributed articles to over 50 scientific journals.

Utsugi is the senior vice president and director of business banking at Central Pacific Bank. She was recently featured in a series of local television commercials and print ads, promoting the bank's small business program. She is an active member in the community and serves as secretary of the board for Hale Kipa, and is the treasurer for Hoops 4 Christ. She is a board member for the Patsy T. Mink Center for Business and Leadership, advisory board member for Hawaii Food Manufacturers, and past president of HBA's alumni association.

In addition to celebrating the awardees, guests to Legacy Awards enjoyed an evening of fine dining from some of the best chefs on Oahu, and outstanding musical performances by HBA students. Among the chefs were Chef Aaron Lee '92 of Tre Gourmet, Chef Brandon Lee '06 of The Pig & The Lady, and Chef Brian Nagai '92 of Surf Rider Room & Café Blue at the Bank of Hawaii.

Nominations are now open for our 2016 Legacy Awards. You may submit your nominations online at www.hba.net/legacy. The 2016 Legacy Awards are scheduled for November 5, 2016.

School Year Begins With All-School Chapel

Fifth grade students enjoy lunch time with their tenth grade buddies at HBA's all-school picnic and chapel in August.

Matthew Murakami, kindergartener, with his senior buddy, Tyler Matsukawa.

Hawaii Baptist Academy kicked off the school year with their all-school fellowship and chapel on August 17. More than 600 students from HBA's middle school and high school walked down Nuuanu Avenue to meet with their elementary school buddies at the Bates Street campus.

The event began with an all-school chapel on the black top. More than 1,000 students, teachers and staff members, gathered together to pray and worship God. During the worship service, 17 seniors were recognized as "lifers" for attending HBA from kindergarten through 12th grade. Senior Ty Wakabayashi, who is a "lifer," shared with the student body some of his favorite memories from the elementary school, which included playing tag "all of the time."

Freshman Madelyn Weaver, who has attended HBA since sixth grade, also shared her experiences at HBA with the student body. Weaver said that her best experience was in 7th grade when she drew closer to God at Christian Emphasis Week.

All-school chapels are held twice during the school year. The first all-school chapel was held in August 2014 when HBA launched its first school-wide campaign entitled, "Love Does." The theme was inspired by a book written by best-selling author and speaker Bob Goff. Using examples from his own life, Goff encourages readers to passionately seek out ways to share the love God gives to us with others. This year, HBA is continuing the theme of "Love Does," using 1 John 3:18 as its central focus.

"Don't just talk about love. Put your love into action. Then it will truly be love," 1 John 3:18.

CEW: Upside Down

When you think of the phrase "upside down," you might envision children hanging from monkey bars head first. From this view, the world really is "upside down," giving the viewer an entirely new perspective from what they would normally see. At Christian Emphasis Week (CEW) in October, elementary students were challenged to look at Christianity with this "upside down" perspective.

"Jesus Christ came to flip our understanding of what the Kingdom of God is like, and He invites us to be part of His upside down way of life," said Cindy Gaskins, Christian Ministries Coordinator at HBA's elementary school.

One way that Christ demonstrated this lifestyle was through acts of compassion to those who were often overlooked by society. Throughout the week, students were challenged to do something out of kindness, such as writing an encouraging letter to a friend, or putting together a snack bag for a person who is hungry. Students could donate canned goods to Olivet Baptist Church's food pantry and make toys for Operation Christmas Child.

Students wrapped up the week by participating in service projects at various organizations in the school's neighborhood, such as playing bingo with seniors at Malulani Hale, making cards shaped like turkeys for Meals On Wheels, sorting canned foods at Olivet Baptist Church's food pantry, and visiting patients at Kuakini Hospital and Rehabilitation Hospital of the Pacific.

The guest speaker for CEW was storyteller Colleen Burroughs, co-founder and vice president of Passport, Inc., a student camping ministry based in Birmingham, Alabama that emphasizes mission action. She is also the founder of Watering Malawi, a non-profit organization that focuses on providing access to clean water, simple irrigation and sanitation systems. Forty-three students received Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior for the first time, and 124 recommitted their lives to Christ during this week.

Alumni Chronicles

Bryan Carvalho '02

By Maurine King

Christian values and volleyball—two of the things for which HBA is known—made Bryan Carvalho the man he is. That's the belief of his stepfather, Mark Witsell, middle school health teacher. Bryan, who came to HBA in fifth grade and graduated in 2002, coaches volleyball at Azusa Pacific University, his alma mater. He and his team spent part of the past summer volunteering in a slum in Costa Rica. In October they were in Hawaii to play Chaminade.

Bryan recently married Haleigh Hampton, a volleyball player he had met through Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA). As they grew in their shared love for God, they also grew to love each other. At the same time, TLC was conducting a nationwide search for women over 6'4" and found Haleigh on her volleyball roster at Clemson University.

"The production company then contacted Clemson for permission to contact Haleigh through her coach, and the coach told Haleigh about the opportunity to be on the show. We then did a series of Skype interviews and were chosen out of 300 possible candidates.... We accepted because we saw it as an opportunity to share our faith through our relationship and Haleigh wanted to empower young women to be more confident in who they are, as it was a struggle for her, feeling tall and very noticeable growing up," says Bryan.

It takes strength of character to deal with the stares—even admiring ones—the couple attracts.

Haleigh, a lovely dark-eyed blonde, stands out in any crowd. Besides being beautiful, she is 6' 7" tall. She had dreamed of finding a husband of equal height—someone who could make her feel small and protected. But she says Bryan, who is 11" shorter, makes her feel that way.

Q: What was the experience like for you, being on reality TV?

A: "Our experience with the show was a mixed plate. There were very long shooting days and it became evident that there was a story that the network wanted to tell that wasn't completely true. Our engagement shoot was a bit of a miss from a production standpoint. We were very clear that we wanted the cameras to be far away so we could have our very real romantic moment, but that request was not honored like we thought it should have been. An intrusive cameraman seemed to ignore our desire right at the moment I asked Haleigh to be my wife.

"We had to get very strong with our boundaries on the wedding day to ensure that production would not be so intrusive. We both knew that in this once-in-a-lifetime moment we didn't want the memory of a camera in our faces. So we had to come to several agreements about how things would be handled on the day of the wedding. We first agreed to do a mini-dress rehearsal before our guests arrived in order to get some close-up shots of the rings being placed, of our pastor, etc. The production company then agreed to place stationary cameras and not to interfere with our ceremony at all. We agreed that some of our guests would have interviews and reaction shots, but we could pick them. The day of the wedding went very well in terms of them keeping their word about being unobtrusive. Both Haleigh and I were very happy with how the day went."

Q: How were you able to share your Christian values on a secular cable station? Were you ever encouraged to create drama that would compromise your faith?

A: "It was impossible for us to take our belief in Christ out of our story. We met at an FCA worship night and our whole relationship was founded in Christ. We were very upfront about that from the beginning, and the producers seemed to be fine with it and encouraged us to share what was real to us. So we did just that—we wanted the world to know that our identities are in Christ and that he is what makes our relationship successful. We shared our hearts for Christ and his love whenever possible. They did ask Haleigh to do some things I had a problem with, but I quickly said no and they respected that. They also respected our desire to get married under a giant cross and to keep the foot washing ceremony in our wedding. I wasn't so thrilled about some of the editing that cut my statements short or took things out of context, but I expected a degree of censorship. It was mostly when I was quoting scripture—nothing that compromised my faith."

The June 25 wedding was held at a restaurant in Marina Del Rey Harbor, right on the water at sunset. To blend their Hawaii and California backgrounds, they chose Hawaii-themed drinks and decorations and tacos for their reception dinner "because the Mexican food here is amazing." Bryan's best man was his classmate Keith Miller. Other HBA grads in attendance were Steve Stinton, Terence Li, and Mike Jones.

The show, called "My Giant Life," is still occasionally re-run on TLC. The segments include the engagement, wedding dress shopping, and the ceremony itself.

For the near future, Bryan and Haleigh will need the resilience to deal with a long-distance marriage. They are presently living in Huntington Beach, California, two blocks from the beach. Haleigh is finishing her Master's degree online from Clemson University in South Carolina and should graduate within the year. She is presently between agents who are negotiating with professional teams on her behalf. In the meantime, she is training to go overseas.

Eventually Bryan and Haleigh hope to coach volleyball at the collegiate setting on the same staff.
